Customer accounts are costly – not only due to the resources they tie up in the balance sheet - but also because of the organization, tools, and staff required to manage them.

Therefore, efficient and effective Credit Management becomes more and more important. Ever thought about outsourcing ...?

As a leading expert in order-to-cash management, Finodis offers end-to-end services and solutions for Credit Management. Outsourcing Credit Management to Finodis goes beyond costs-savings. It adds value in many other areas by delivering services tailored to the client's needs.

About Finodis

Finodis, a joint-venture between Fortis Commercial Finance (FCF) and Hewlett Packard (HP), is a leading Business Process Outsourcing service provider offering Credit Management Outsourcing solutions. Finodis is present in all major European countries.

Our Services ...

- Credit Management
- Invoicing & e-Invoicing
- Accounts Payable Management
- Financial Back-Office Administration
- Securitization (Master) Servicing
- Securitization Back-up Servicing
- Loan & Mortgage Servicing

... Your Added Value

Although Credit Management is critical for a company, it should not be considered as a core activity. By outsourcing its Credit Management activities to Finodis your company can concentrate entirely on its core business areas and benefit from the following advantages:

- Improved cash flow position
- Reduced operational and organizational costs
- Volume-driven variable costs instead of fixed costs
- Economies of scale and synergies through streamlined processes
- Access to top technology without the investment of it
